LAS VEGAS — The Packer news-editorial staff members Tom Karst, Dan Galbraith, Ashley Bentley and Dawn Withers compiled these news briefs April 21-22 from the show floor at United Fresh 2010:

Cenergy

Cenergy Power, a solar energy company, exhibited for the first time at United Fresh, said Chad Chahbazi, lead project developer for the Carlsbad, Calif.-based company.

“Solar energy is a viable way to reduce operational costs and we are already doing cold storage work for (Driscoll Strawberry Associates Inc.),” he said.

The company helps its ag value chain customers realize savings by locking in incentives for them, designing customized solar energy systems and installing, monitoring and supporting those systems, Chahbazi said.
